WELCOME

Football South Australia CEO, Michael Carter

On behalf of Football South Australia, I would like to welcome all clubs, officials, players and spectators to ServiceFM Stadium and the 2022 ServiceFM Senior Men's Grand Finals.

The success of our sport and the opportunities that it provides would not be possible without the contribution of our corporate partners, our clubs and associations, our match officials, our board and committees, and the dedicated volunteers who support the game in South Australia.

This year's Senior Men's Grand Finals will be the first time Football South Australia will host the event at ServiceFM Stadium. Over the weekend we will see Senior, Reserves and Under 18 matches across the RAA NPLSA, State League One and State League Two, with Adelaide City and Adelaide Comets opening Grand Final week with a rematch from the 2021 RAA NPLSA Grand Final.

Adelaide City are searching to complete the 2022 season in tremendous fashion as they look to secure the treble with a historic Grand Final win, while Adelaide Comets seek to break their Championship drought as they enter their fourth consecutive RAA NPLSA Grand Final.

We are also treated to a fantastic day of Grand Final football on Saturday as we see eight further games across our RAA NPLSA, State League One and State League Two leagues, culminating with two promotion matchups. Vipers FC and Western Strikers look to gain the last promotion spot back into State League One for season 2023, while West Adelaide and Para Hills Knights compete to return back to the RAA NPLSA in 2023.

On behalf of the Football SA Board, Management and Staff, I hope you enjoy what is sure to be a great weekend of Grand Final football.

GRAND FINAL PREVIEW

Preview by Antonis Pagonis | THE INNER SANCTUM

Despite the two sides facing off on the final day of season 2021, the 2022 rematch sees both Adelaide City and the Adelaide Comets enter in completely different circumstances than they did a year ago.

The 2021 Grand Final signified the end of the suffering for Adelaide City, while the misery piled on for the Adelaide Comets. Even though both clubs have experienced periods of sustained success in the past decade, Grand Final day has historically been neither's forte.

City may be seemingly winning for fun in this day and age, but the Black and White have been hardened by the disappointments of the past.

Despite making three Grand Finals in a row between 2016-2018, City was unable to claim victory in any of those attempts, its Championship drought stretching back to 2010 when it defeated the Blue Eagles for silverware before proceeding to lose the 2011 and 2012 Grand Finals as its barren run began.

The 2021 version of Adelaide City was a rejuvenated one, with veterans such as Nicholas Bucco, Joe Costa, and Matthew Halliday surrounded by the youthful exuberance that was introduced by new coach Paul Pezos, many of his imports being players that he coached during his time as Adelaide United NPL coach.

City may be entering the 2022 Grand Final as favourites after defeating the Comets in their 2021 encounter, but it was not always rosy for the Black and White in Pezos' first season at the helm.

Despite being dominant for a long stretch of the season, City experienced heartache aplenty, losing the Federation Cup Final to Adelaide Olympic despite outplaying their opposition, before dropping points on the final day of the home and away season, and subsequently being pipped to the Premiership by the Comets.

City's penalty shootout coronation against the Comets in 2021 was as much elation as it was relief. Since then, Paul Pezos' side has upped its own standards, claiming both the Federation Cup and the Premiership that eluded them the previous season, while only succumbing to one loss in the league.

City is no longer a side hoping for the best while expecting the worst. They are the standard setters with the pressure on expectations firmly on their shoulders, with the South Australian football community keenly observing how it will deal with it.

When it comes to expectations, the Adelaide Comets have been made well aware of the toll they can take in recent years.

South Australia's most consistent regular season side in the past three seasons has qualified for the Grand Final for the fourth successive time but unfortunately for everyone involved with the club, it is yet to taste victory on the big stage.

2019 saw the Comets fall to Campbelltown, a side that successfully defended its 2018 Championship, but with Barney Smith re-joining the club as a coach, fortunes seemed to take a turn for the better the following season.

Adelaide Comets 2022, Image: Ken Carter

In 2020, the Comets won the Premiership before qualifying for the Grand Final after comfortably dispatching Campbelltown in the second leg of their Semi-Final. Unfortunately for Smith and his side, two weeks later the Red Devils were back with the vengeance and claimed their third consecutive Championship.

2021 saw a new rival emerge for the Comets, one that was as adept to heartbreak in Adelaide City. Despite winning the Premiership and entering the Grand Final as favourites, the Comets let themselves down on the big stage for the third consecutive year, this time capitulating on penalties, once again making them a mere footnote in someone else's story.

Despite not earning a top two finish in 2022, a first under Barney Smith's current stint at the club, the Comets have returned for a fourth consecutive Grand Final. Even though they are not looking as potent in the final third as in previous years, they have found strength in a different way, having yet to concede this Finals series.

Quelling City is its own challenge, but one the Comets will be approaching without fear and with nothing to lose. Adelaide City itself can be used as inspiration for the Comets, an example that no matter what past results say, you are always a chance on the day.

A year onward, South Australia no longer has two sides competing to end their respective hard-luck stories. Adelaide City has already managed to do so and since then, it has not stopped winning. Pezos and his men enter Friday night as the overwhelming favourites, a far cry from a year ago.

Despite the Comets not receiving the plaudits they are accustomed to, going under the radar is a new-found experience Barney Smith's side may benefit from. The players are well aware of past failings, but if the 2022 finals series is any indication, the group has only gained strength and resilience from the disappointments of the past.

Coming into finals without the comfort of a second chance and with an injured keeper in Dan Vaughan taking the field out of necessity, many would have conjectured that the Comets' ship had sailed.

Regardless of the outside noise, the Comets have been more stubborn than ever eliminating Croydon, the MetroStars, and Campbelltown while keeping all of its opposing sides scoreless.

It would be a brave call to tip against Adelaide City and not many will. A side with quality throughout the park, there is a reason why Paul Pezos' men have only been defeated once in the league in 2022.

City may only be a victory away from a South Australian treble, but experienced players like Nicholas Bucco and Matthew Halliday will not let their young teammates get complacent as their own heartbreaks have taught them too well not to take a stage like this for granted.

Regardless of the result, South Australian football history books will only be enriched by another chapter written between these two sides, Service FM Stadium at the State Centre for Football being the perfect stage to host this rematch; a first NPL Grand Final for the venue.

GRAND FINAL PREVIEW

With promotion in their sights, West Adelaide and Para Hills Knights are set to play off in an exciting encounter in the 2022 State League One Grand Final.

West Adelaide is set to cap off what has been a season to remember as they search for promotion back to the RAA NPLSA after facing relegation in the 2019 season.

It's been a major turnaround for West Adelaide since the 2021 season where they avoid relegation to State League Two by only three points. One year on West Adelaide are now one game away from achieving promotion back into the topflight of South Australian football.

Facing a tough test in the form of Modbury Jets in the State league One Finals Series Semi-Final, West Adelaide proved their quality as they secured a 4-1 aggregate win over their opponents in their two-legged series.

West Adelaide striker Joe Gatting is set to face his former side in the Grand Final. Since leaving Para Hills Knights, Gatting has been unstoppable for West Adelaide, scoring eight goals in in seven games.

His former side Para Hills Knights have produced a fantastic Finals Series campaign that has culminated in a State League One Grand Final appearance and a chance at promotion.

After facing relegation for the RAA NPLSA in season 2020, this is Para Hills Knights best opportunity at promotion after losing in the first round of the Finals Series in 2021.

This Para hills Knights teams should not be taken lightly after they beat Modbury Jets 3-2 last weekend to progress to the Grand Final.

Unfortunately for Para Hills Knights, they will be without first-team goalkeeper Jordan Findlay, who picked up a devastating injury in last week's match with Modbury Jets.

With promotion on the line, this seasons State League One Grand Final should be one to remember.

GRAND FINAL PREVIEW

After 22 rounds and three weeks of Finals Series matches, promotion to State League One will be decided this Saturday as Vipers FC takes on Western Strikers.

Facing relegation from State League One in 2020, Vipers FC were left devastated as they missed out on promotion in 2021 through a penalties loss in the Grand Final to Adelaide University SC. With the heartbreak of the 2021 Grand Final, Vipers FC set their sights once again on promotion back into State League One, however a strong Adelaide Cobras side prevented them from achieving automatic promotion, with the team finishing in second.

Following an impressive two-leg Finals Series clash with Adelaide Cobras, Vipers FC secured a place in the 2022 State League Two Grand Final, beating their opponents 3-1 and 3-0.

Unfortunately for Vipers FC, the team missed another opportunity to gain promotion as Adelaide Cobras were beaten in the Preliminary Final by Western Strikers, meaning this seasons Grand Final will determine who will gain the last promotion spot.

Western Strikers will be eager to join Adelaide Cobras and gain promotion straight back up into State League One after facing relegation last season.

Starting the season in struggling form with two wins in eight games, Western Strikers have been on a reign of terror since then, which has now led to a chance at promotion.

Western Strikers will be pleased with the success of this seasons Finals Series campaign, after facing a major scare in the first round against Northern Demons. Falling 2-0 behind within the opening 20 minutes, Western Striker fought hard to restore the deficit to 2-2, eventuating progressing to the next round with a penalty victory.

Following a 3-1 victory over Cove FC in week 2 of the Finals Series and a 2-1 win over State League Two Premiers Adelaide Cobras, Western Strikers could be instore for a famous victory this weekend.
